“The Nine Magical Principles for #WomenOnFIRE”

This FREE REPORT is designed for women entrepreneurs, financially independent, savvy women, or anyone who needs to build their financial fitness program in order to increase their financial intelligence, their financial independence, and create more wealth!

A Note from Lorena

In a job, the more successful you become, the busier you are, and the less time you have for other endeavors. The more successful you become in managing your money, the more free time you will enjoy. Your money will be working hard for you, providing the living you desire, instead of you working hard for money.

Life brings unexpected and unanticipated challenges to all of us. This report will show you how you can depend on yourself through any challenge. Regardless of where you have come from, what your education is, how much money you currently have, or what your excuse may be, this report will show you the kind of COURAGE it takes to transform your life.

You may be a mother recently divorced, or a single woman facing her aging days alone, a recent widow, or a happily married woman worried about having enough money for retirement. You are not alone. Often it is that first step that is the most difficult. By taking control of your own financial future you will find the self-confidence to help you in all areas of your life. It is through great self-confidence that you will find the freedom to be, to do, and to have whatever you want.

This report is simply to inspire women to take action and to understand that becoming financially independent is not rocket science. Any one of us can do it. It just takes some time and education.

Today, more than ever, we, as women, can no longer depend on someone else, be it our husband or partner, our parents, our boss or our government to take care of us financially. What was true for our mothers and grandmothers is not applicable to us today. In my opinion, women must learn to be on FIRE to ensure a secure life for themselves and their children. It is no longer just an option. The rules have changed and it's time we take control of our financial futures.

Stay motivated and believe in yourself; after all, you have what it takes to be an amazing Woman On FIRE.

This is for the woman entrepreneur already committed to building material wealth with the spiritual and practical laws of money. By understanding and applying these principles you will exponentially increase your ease, satisfaction and results in financial matters.

These Nine Magical Principles for #WomenOnFIRE will help you:

- Permanently eliminate worry about your finances and find peace
- Release your resentments about money and be free
- Immediately step into the flow of prosperity
- Discover the 3 questions you must ask before making any financial move
- Create and enjoy a prosperous, intimate partnership, successfully combining love, Time and Money

How you “Invest” yourself in time, energy and attention determines the quality of your experience of money in your life.

What is Money Shame?

Money Shame is a common block to women entrepreneurs to be Financially Independent.

Why am I opening up the conversation with you about money shame? Because it is the number one money block most ambitious women entrepreneurs experience. And one thing I know for sure is that if we talk about it, we can heal it. So, are you in?

Let's start with having a better relationship with your money (and, if you are new in your business don't tune this out... you NEED to hear this).

Logic says, "Do It." Fear says, "Maybe you should wait." Shame whispers in the sneakiest, most insidious of voices, "Are you worth it?."

That's the thing about shame, it wraps itself around our most tender, vulnerable place...our sense of identity, of who we are. It grabs hold at the very heart of who we are and instantly we feel about 5 years old, incredibly vulnerable and uncertain.

Here is the good news where you can DO something about it.... And yes, I'm going to get really vulnerable here. It's hard for me to talk about this because it means I have to admit to my own daily battle with shame.

But I learned from Brene Brown that shame thrives in secrecy so if sharing MY vulnerable moments with you helps you then it's worth the sweat producing moments I'm having as I write this....And hang in here with me for a moment because yes, I'm going to go a little "inner child" with you (it's worth it – you'll see). Here goes...

I used to deal with shame for the longest time until I discovered my inner child- My 5-year-old me.

That 5-year-old “me” whom shame is trying to control - She needs a protector. A Guardian Angel. A fierce warrior woman, and that woman is ME.

Here’s what I do when shame starts to belittle and persuade me into backing down from my sure knowledge that it’s time to take control of my financial independence and transform my relationship with money once and for all.

I imagine grabbing the hand of the small little girl and telling shame to shut the eff up. Does it back down right away? No.

So, I say it again. Only louder. Like I mean it. Like I really, really mean it. Like it better back off right now or else. Shut the EFF UP.

I shoo it away with my words and my energy never letting go of the little girl’s hand. She needs me to stand up for her. She needs to feel safe, secure, sheltered and satisfied. Just like you do.....

Your relationship with money represents the immense value you bring to the world. Seriously, tell me if this isn’t true - how you make, save, invest and create money changes lives, right? Do you get the value of that? I mean, really, really get that?.

Shame? It is toast, history. In this moment, shame, has no more control because it doesn’t have the power – I do. I have control of my money because I am standing in the power of the transformation I create.

So, my warrior lady..... what is transformation you want to create now?

I know you want to know The Nine Magical Principles for #WomenOnFIRE.....But first.....Who is Lorena and Why should you listen to Her?

In 2005, Lorena formed the Women Investment Group (WIG) to address women’s specific need to be financially independent and not to rely on a man, family, company or government to take care of them. Having gone through divorce and later becoming a widow, Lorena understood what it meant to suddenly be faced with decisions about where to live and how to manage finances. While investing in real estate, Lorena found the financial security to start creating dreams and goals.

This intense desire to help women prompted Lorena to start the movement #WomenOnFIRE (Financial Independence/ Retire early).a network of support that includes workshops, classes, presentations and networking gatherings.

Prominent and genuine, she is an authority in her field. She leads others with a steady yet gentle approach. People consider her the “rock” of any group and follow her because of her dependability. She inspires others by creating bigger goals and forming stronger opinions. She is respected for her long-standing industry experience and her firm leadership.

Beloved by women around the country for her inspiring and practical training, Lorena is the creative founder of the #1 FIRE movement for women.

Her trainings help and support women with money and financial insights they can use to immediately to begin creating and growing their financial future.

As a result, graduates of Lorena's FIRE Academy program quickly begin creating extraordinary income, let go of past money blocks, and experience deep, soul-level breakthroughs in claiming their power.

Today, #WomenOnFIRE's mission is to empower women to increase their financial Integrity by transforming their relationship with money.

The most powerful way to empower someone is to show them their own highest value

Lorena has recently married again and enjoys being Wealthy, Healthy and Wise with her new husband and sharing the wealth and abundance with women entrepreneurs.

Wealthy, Healthy and Wise

Lorena enjoys inspiring, motivating and educating women entrepreneurs on how to design their business to fit their life and free them to do the things they love.

She encourages women to stop struggling in their past and their story and start creating new unlimited beliefs about wealth, joy, and abundance.

Since the early 2000's, she has actively invested in real estate and travels across the nation speaking, training and teaching. Lorena has influenced thousands of students in the area of building wealth.

Now, for the

“The Nine Magical Principles for #WomenOnFIRE ”

Hopefully, you are ready to be a Warrior with your money and a Woman On FIRE and achieve Financial Independence.

Ask yourself:

- Have you ever felt like you’re just chasing money and yet never able to get ahead?
- Have you ever wanted to control your expenses through a well-toned budget?
- Do you want to transform your sad and skinny little bank account into a bulked-up cash machine?

Money may not be the most important thing in life, but it DOES impact almost every area of your life. Your lifestyle, your relationships... it can even impact your health.

Which principles are you practicing?

While you’re going through the list, mark the question I each principle with a “yes” or “no”. You ‘ll see where you stand with these Nine Magical Principles.

It is absolutely necessary that you do, diligently, every principle. The principles build on each other, creating the “Magic” of synergy – the whole is greater than the sum of its parts. You may not see this effect until you have been following the principles for a number of months.

Conscientiously applying all the principles automatically makes your personal finances an integrated whole: This is a holistic approach.

Principle 1.- Make Peace with your Past

In order to move forward in a new way, it's important to figure out how you got where you are. You can never know what is enough if you don't know what you have. You might find that you have a lot of material possessions that are not bringing you fulfillment, and you might want to convert them to cash. This is a very basic, fundamental practice for any business – and you are a business.

Do you know how much money has come into your life, and what you have to show for it? YES/ NO

(I have a system that will help you how to identify your money archetype.)

Principle 2- Be in the Present

Establish the actual costs in Time and Money. Become aware of all your financial transactions and their real cost. You are in the business of selling the most precious resource in existence – your life energy. You had better know how much you are selling it for.

*Do you know how much are you trading your life energy for?
YES/NO*

(I have a strategy on how to compute your real hourly wage.)

Principle 3 – Forecast the Future

Recognize where your money is all going and forecast the future. Create an accurate portrait of how you are actually living and provide a foundation for the rest of the principles.

Do you accurately know where is it all going? YES/NO

(I have a strategy that will help you create an accurate portrait of how you are actually living.)

Principle 4 - Transform your relationship with money

This is the core of the principles. Clarify and integrate your earnings, your spending, your value, your purpose, your sense of fulfillment and your integrity. This will help you discover what is enough for you.

Do you know what is enough for you? YES/NO

(I have a strategy that will teach you how 3 magic questions help you will all financial decisions.)

Principle 5- Make Money Visible

Track your progress; make it visible – Learn the trends in your financial situation and get a sense of progress over time, and the transformation of your relationship with money will be obvious.

Do you know how to track your progress toward full Financial Independence? YES/NO

(I have a strategy that will provide inspiration, motivation, support and gentle transformation.)

Principle 6 - Value Money

Learn and practice intelligent use of your life energy (Money), which will result in lowering your expenses and increasing your saving, which in turn will create greater fulfillment, integrity and alignment in your life.

Do you know how to intelligently spend and save, demonstrating how you value money? YES/NO

(I have a strategy that will show you how to master the techniques of wise purchasing, research value, quality and durability.)

Principle 7 – Increase Money

Manage your money more effectively and apply it to your life energy. Trade it with purpose and integrity for increased earnings. Breaking the robotic link between who you are and what you do for a living will free you to make more fulfilling choices.

Are you no longer just living to work but working to live? YES/ NO

(I have a strategy that will show you how to examine your purpose for money and create options.)

Principle 8- Invest Money

Once you create enough and then some, you will be financially independent, and your passive income will be equal to or greater than your actual monthly expenses. You will have enough - Your options are now wide open - Celebrate!

Do you know for how long you need to work for money? YES/NO

(I have a strategy will help you how to identify your Freedom Day.)

Principle 9 - Manage your Money

Now that you're on FIRE, the final principle to financial independence: Take personal responsibility for your future and become knowledgeable, sophisticated and adept about investment vehicles within your own selfdefined criteria and to secure your Financial Independence. Empower yourself to make your own investment decisions.

*If you stopped working tomorrow, would you have sufficient income to meet your financial needs for the rest of your life?
YES/NO*

(I have a strategy that will empower you how to make your own wise investment decisions.)

There is more to life than nine-to-five. There are no shorter shortcuts. These nine magical steps are the shortcut. These steps are simple, common-sense practices.

Why Do You need #WomenOnFIRE?

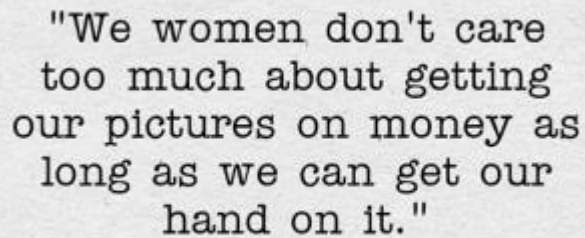

There are general differences in men's approach versus women's approach to finances. Men tend to fire-ready-aim and often don't do enough due diligence. They are more concerned about looking successful than making the right choice.

Women, on the other hand, are much more likely ready-aim-fire and struggle with analysis paralysis. Women ask questions until they fully understand what they are learning, and they are usually more interested in the goal than they are in impressing the people around them.

Usually when people think of Financial Independence, they think of taking chances and risk. But the truth is that Money has much more to do with emotional intelligence than most people realize. Emotional intelligence is the key skill involved in your new relationship with Money. Women, in general, possess a high emotional intelligence.

These advantages make women great money managers. Rather than investing their money according to what will make them look successful, women will invest according to a plan – not according to what mood they are in or whether they will be “right” or “wrong.”

The downside of this is that women may sometimes take information from women who have no experience. They will listen to advice because, “she is my friend.” Please be sure that the women with whom you are speaking are like-minded and have similar money mindset goals, otherwise you may be wasting a lot of your time.

"We women don't care too much about getting our pictures on money as long as we can get our hand on it."

There is no great secret about how to make, manifest, save and increase money. That's the easy part. The key for most women is making the shift in mindset from "I can't" or "I don't know how" to "Not only can I be wealthy, Healthy and wise, I can be a great Millionaire Bitch!"

Women make fabulous FIRE!! We are cut out for this. More and more women today are becoming Financially independent and proving that we're more than good and that it's fun. It's fun to make money. It's fun to learn and grow. It's fun to feel a newfound self-esteem. Most importantly, it's fun to know that we're in control of our lives – and because of that more choices and opportunities are available to us. That is a powerful and freeing position in which to be.

So, How did you Do? Do you practice The Nine Magical Principles for #WomenOnFIRE?
